

i Kin-Ball

Kin-Ball is a cooperative team sport that uses a giant, yet light-as-a-feather ball. The game pits three teams against each other: The team with possession of the ball tries to serve the ball so that the team they call out cannot catch it. The defending team has to stop the ball from touching the ground. If the defending team gets the ball under control, they take possession and serve next.

Perfect for school sport
Kin-Ball is great fun! It gets everyone moving and trains coordination, speed, stamina and reactions. The game also teaches cognitive skills and social values such as team spirit, respect and fair play in a fun way.
