

i FooBaSkill

Specially developed for schools. FooBaSkill is a combination of football and basketball played using the SKILLTheBall. The ball comes in sizes 4 and 5 and has different surface textures. It features 12 smooth panels like those used on footballs and 8 ribbed panels with the characteristics of a basketball. The unique thing about FooBaSkill is the interchanging between sports and therefore between upper body (basketball) and lower body (football) work. As they cross the halfway line, players must immediately switch sports and reorient themselves.
